

SAN FELICE
BORGO

Starting on the April 9th, there will be one more table to be found in the “Poggio Rosso” restaurant: the Chef’s table!

You will feel as if you were at home among friends with the familiar sights and smells of ovens baking, pots boiling, and pans sizzling.

All this will be made available to your own viewing pleasure, like a private “dinner” theatre, with a linen-dressed table, crystal glassware, and a wine steward there to make just the right recommendation for the occasion.

At centre stage will be the chef, masterfully preparing delectable local specialties for his guests (2 person maximum, dinner seating only) while following a fine Tuscan menu whipped up on a whim or a personalised menu arranged in advance with you
